North Star High School

Boswell Campus

Boswell, Pennsylvania

Take a quick look back —

. . . in this Bicentennial year, to beginnings . . . a new life, in 1776, for Europeans in a new country . . . old needs for food and shelter with new ways to fulfill them . . . a new government, a new flag, a new United States.

. . . an old, 1876, map of a new community . . . a first high school for that agricultural and coal producing area, new products, new things to do.

. . . and in 1976 a new first grader, a new seventh grader, a new senior . . . all a part of the old but each one new.

End sheet design and information on p. 3 taken from a reproduction of the 1876 County Atlas of Somerset, Pennsylvania. Original Publisher, F. W. Beers and Co. 1973 printing published by the Somerset County Archeology Society, Inc.

A LETTER FROM THE FIRST CLASS OF BOSWELL HIGH SCHOOL — 1914

"The last shall be first and —" Since the second clause of that repeated statement is not applicable in this particular instance, we'll omit it

I know that I am voicing the sentiments of the First Class of Boswell High School, when I say that we retain first place, figuratively, literally, or any other way. It is our right inviolate

Prof. H. S. Alahouse very ably guided and directed our course throughout our first year

In the beginning we were about twenty-five in number. In the end we were but four. Indifference, economic pressure and even, I may say, incompatibility — these factors entered in and aided in greatly reducing our number

Prof. W. H. Troutman was our very congenial Principal during our second year

Of the four who graduated with the first class, two were non-resident students

The North East room on the Second floor of the Municipal Building served as classroom, library, gymnasium, assembly hall, and laboratory (?)

Occasionally, we very obediently, congenially, and respectfully (yes, almost solemnly) gathered in the larger room for a "sing"

Supplies were inadequate and the ordinary and wholly essential school conveniences were lacking

This fact remains — we were the first. No one can deny that. No one desires the place — but the class, itself. No one envies us. The date suggests antiquity — but we were first

Respectfully,
"THE FOURTEENERS"

REX COLLUM

"Many years ago, the Red Men
Roamed across these wooded hills.
Hunted deer within the forest,
Pitched their wigwams by the rills

Then it was tradition tells us,
That a mighty Quintills Chief
Sent a message to his tribesmen
At the time of "Falling Leaf"

Telling them, that six Full Moons hence
He would hold a feast most rare
When the mightiest of his warriors
Should receive his daughter fair

At the time by him appointed,
Warriors came from far and near
To the hills where now stands Boswell
With our High School, grand and dear

Here they raced and here they wrestled
All their skill and strength was tried;
And the mightiest man among them
Won the fair and dainty bride

Ever since that famous marriage
All the tribesmen of Quintills
Have proclaimed this little mountain
As, "The Monarch of the Hills."

Rex Collum, meaning the "King of the Mountain" or "Monarch of the Hills" was written in poetry form by Charles A. Weed, a former biology teacher at Boswell.

1976

1976 Crest of Somerset County

The designs, superimposed upon an outline map of Somerset County, depict a rampant dragon (derived from the crest of Somerset County, England, for which this county was named) and encircled symbols of the industries and agriculture which support Somerset County. Two maple leaf designs also pay tribute to the County's "Sweetest Industry," products of the sugar maple

Design by Alvin Camahan and Jack Foreback

THE THEME OF THE SOMERSET COUNTY BICENTENNIAL COMMISSION

The theme consists of two sections, both selected by County-wide open contests. The VERBAL THEME, "RELIVING YESTERDAY, TO BETTER LIVE TOMORROW," was submitted by Angela M. Ogburn of Glencoe, Pa. The VISUAL THEME, a red, white, and blue stylized star, symbolizes the people of Somerset County holding hands in a gesture of cooperation and celebration. It was submitted by Reverend James Hanna of Meyersdale, Pa.

Together the two themes form the official theme adopted for the County's celebration of the 200th birthday of the Nation
